Art was an adventurous guy. He loved to rodeo in his younger years and even winning the 1980 Texas state champion saddle bronc riding. He loved his family and without a doubt like to tell stories to anyone who would listen. You could find him any Friday night the past few years at the end of the football field waiting for a touchdown from the Tigers, so he could blow the horns. If a cloud was in the sky most of his family could expect a call with a weather report. He even had the little tornado spinner literally like off of the show twister outside. He could be spotted wearing anything Texas Tech, he loved the Raiders. His favorite tv show was Yellowstone and the Cowboy Way, Yancey knew after each episode they would have to break down what went on and decide what was coming up next. Spending time with his grandkids and watching them play was something he loved most. He had found a church to call home at Christian Missions and did not hesitate to share his love for God on Sundays. Even though he had dibs on the back seat of the church and made sure everyone knew it! (I mean really, do not sit there really) He will tell you that's "his seat".
