“ I'm so sorry to hear about Doris's passing. I never really got to know her, but I heard about her frequently from Bob, Roxanna and McCall. I know they were all so grateful to have Doris help take care of and raise McCall during his formative years. She was such a good influence on him, and helped him learn manners and respect when those skills weren't often so easy to learn at home. I remember one time when my mother was astonished when, following a meal, McCall (as a youngster) got up and removed his own plate and other dishes off of the table upon completing his meal, to take them to the sink. Since getting the "Maddox men" to pick up after themselves was a herculean effort, Norma (befuddled beyond words) asked McCall "WHERE did you learn that," and he simply said, "Doris." Another time, McCall and my mom were playing a board game at my mom's home...just the two of them. McCall HATED to lose any game. He drew some card telling him to go back to the beginning of the game, but he disregarded the rules and advanced his token ahead anyway. When Norma (who also played to win!) saw this in action, she said, "Wait, wait, wait...WHAT are you doing, McCall?" He replied, "Well, Doris let's me do this," to which Norma said, "Well, I am not Doris. Now move back your token!" I always heard how sweet and patient Doris was. That was such a good influence on McCall. Her influences will live on. Please know that I am thinking of you at this time, and sending you my sincerest sympathies. Randall Rumage

“ There are SO very many fond memories I have of Doris and the wonderful person she was to me and my family. She was truly the best caretaker any parent/child could possibly have had. Our love for Doris couldn't possibly end with her untimely death, nor will all the happy memories my family has of her. She was kind, compassionate, patient, talented and most importantly had an incredible unconditional love for my family and her own family. The world was certainly blessed by her but none any more than my son, McCall. He absolutely thought that the "sun rose and set" by Dorsey. We will forever love you, Doris.
