“ Winston, go rest high on that mountain where the the worries and suffering of this world do not exist. You will dearly be missed by your lovely daughters and precious grandchildren and great-grandchildren. But they can have peace and comfort in knowing they will see you once again someday. You were a very kind and gentle man. Always seeming more concerned about others than yourself. I enjoyed all of the visits I had with you and am honored to have known you. You deeply loved your two daughters and it showed. There's no doubt, they were the center of your world. Until we see each other again.
I love you - Sheri Sheffiled

“ Winston was one of the hardest working and conscientious men I have ever known. I never had to worry about Handy Mart as long as he was there. It's a rare individual you can put that kind of confidence in. If there were a Hall of Fame for convenience store managers he'd be in it, front and center. He was funny too. There were always pranks being pulled at the store. I remember one time he was on the receiving end of one when someone put a couple of live chickens in the dumpster and waited to watch Winston take the trash out and open it up. There was always something going on. I lost a good friend and we lost a good solid American this week but I know he's in a good place now, probably with a Dr. Pepper and a Little Debbie shooting the breeze with some old friends. Rest in peace Winston.- Jon Beeler

I remember the chickens in the dumpster well! Lol! I believe Jack Dennis might have been the culprit! And the Dr Peppers? Winston just loved them! In fact when I told my daughter Brandi of Winston's passing, she said she was going to drink a Dr Pepper in his honor! RIP my old friend.....

“ Really going to miss all the good times we had working together at Handy Mart. You taught me the importance of greeting customers by their first names. It always made them feel welcome. Too bad my memory was not as good as yours. You were truly one of my dearest friends and will be missed a lot. Ronnie Britton

“ My sweet daddy!!! I love this picture! It was taken on November 10 1990 and I was standing beside you in my wedding dress after I became Mrs. David Wilmes.

I am finding peace and comfort in knowing you are no longer in pain. But my heart will be heavy for a very long time while I experience all the "firsts" of life without you and try to accept that we will have no more phone calls; visits; hugs; and kisses. But one thing that keeps me strong is that you knew how much I loved you then. How much I love you now. And how much I will love you always. Goodbye daddy. RIP sweet daddy. I will see you again. I already miss you so much. I LOVE YOU DADDY.
