“ James was the sweetest man. When I was in the hospital back in 2011, my sister-in-law who stayed with me at night went down to her pickup to smoke. Her window got stuck and James helped her get it back open. He asked her who she was visiting for when she came back to my room, he was right behind her. I remember him saying " what on earth are you doing here." So nice of him to come and visit. I know he will be missed by you all. I know he was proud of all of you. Wish I could be there for the services You will be in my prayers.
