“ Thank you to all who prayed for and thought of Joe and the family. I will never forget the grace and dignity that Joe showed throughout his stay in Copperas Cove or the wonderful people who helped care for him at Wind Crest. It was truly a gift to be able to visit with him every day and have a chance to know him better in those last six weeks than I did in the twelve years that I have been married to his son Lance. He made me smile with his silly jokes and the way he flirted with the ladies, especially his nurse Crystal. I hope that at the end of that road he talked about that there is a huge lake full of catfish and that Howard and Frank are there with him and had a fishing line all ready and waiting for him.

“ Thanks to all that have thought of my father. Know that when I am telling jokes and just talking that I got this from father, he never met a stranger, and never heard a joke he wouldn't tell. Some thought Dad stretched the truth sometimes, I think he believed telling a really good story was better than telling a boring one. The last 43 days were the best we ever had and I am proud to be Joe Doyle's son.

“ Joe and I started to school together in 1949 and graduated together in 1961. We have stayed in contact with each other for years. We have talked numerous times the last few months, especially since he has been so sick. He was looking forward to retiring in his new home close to a place for him to fish.

So, to his children and grandchildren my prayers and thoughts are with you for the coming days.

May God bless you all.

“ On behalf of all of the employees of the BCS3 Team we wish to offer our condolences to Lance and his family. During these difficult and challenging times, know that your extended BCS3 family is thinking of you, and shares your pain. Nothing can adequately prepare us for the loss of a parent, but from those of us who have experienced that tragic loss, know that you will forever have the parent in your mind and heart. You are the manifestation of their hard work, love, mentoring and coaching, and you will carry on thier memories, and further validate thier efforts, through your life. We are here for you and we are thinking about you and your family.
