“ Jayla I'm so so sorry! I've had a rough couple of days being in severe pain so I have not looked at Facebook. Yesterday I logged in and saw a picture of your mom. Then I read something you had wrote about the funeral home. I just broke down and cried. I had no idea that she had passed away. Lou was such a lovely and special lady. And still is but in heaven with God. I feel like I've let you down for not being there for you. By not being able to get online and check my Facebook I never saw your post about her passing. All of these years of us being friends and I wasn't there for you. If I had known I would've picked up the phone immediately. I would still love to talk to you but I'm sure you have a million things going on. For right now please know that I'm praying for you and your sister and all of your family. I'm here for you if you need me regardless of how I feel. Pain from the heart is worse than pain from a disease. Since I've been sick the one passage in the Bible that I say every morning comes from Philippians 4:13. It says "I can do all things through Christ". I'm passing this along to you as you go through this difficult time. I love you.

“ I loved your mom and was honored to have the privilege to take care of her. She had the cutest stories and so much spunk! I only new her in her later years, but I know from what she showed me, that she was a blessing to all who knew her before me! You are all in our thoughts and prayers to have peace and comfort during this time of grief.
