“ We wanted to express our condolences to the family at this time. We know that all of you are going through a hard time today. Death is an enemy to all of us. But we need to remember that Maudie is sleeping awaiting a time when she can be brought back to life when the earth will be a paradise. She is not suffering and we living need to remember that. We need to remember all the good things that Maudie did in her life and how she touched our lives. Please know that you are in our thoughts at this time.
