

Patsy Damron

January 24, 1938 - January 23, 2013

Patsy Ann Damron was born on June 24, 1938 in Durham, North Carolina. She passed away at her home in Jacksboro, Texas on January 23, 2013. She was 74 years old.

Patsy was a member of the Church of Latter Day Saints and was a very loving and caring caretaker for many.

She is preceded in death by her parents Wintferd and Mildred Riggs; her husband Donald Ray Damron and her grandson Donald Dean Murphy.

Among those left behind to cherish her sweet memory include her daughter Lori Damron of Jacksboro; daughter Deborah Perrine e of New Mexico, son Michael Damron of California and son Chris Damron of Utah and a brother Marvin Riggs of California; 13 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren, many other extended family members and friends.

Tribute Wall

“ Patsy Damron

October 09, 2023 at 04:16 AM

“ Patsy Damron

January 28, 2023 at 12:10 PM

“ *Our deepest condolences for your loss.
Michael and Karen Mask*

Michael and Karen Mask - February 08, 2013 at 01:11 PM

“ 1 file added to the album Mom we love you!

ldamron13@gmail.com - January 27, 2013 at 09:41 AM

AA

“ It was a sad day when I heard from Lori that my long-time friend had passed away. But it wasn't unexpected, so I was prepared. I knew the care and love she was getting these past many months in Texas was the best she's received in a long time. I will be always grateful for the updates Lori provided us. Sue and I met Pat 38 years ago while visiting Long Beach First ward where she was, even then, doing music at church. From that moment, who knew she and her family would become a life time friendship. Although I met Don, her husband, it was only for a short while before his passing. Pat was always involved in music, either with Primary children, with adults as a chorister, or planning the music for church meetings. She did have a love for the choir, as well. Pat had a strong will and never complained. She was a loving friend, mother, grand-mother and great-grand-mother.
Long-time home teacher and friend, Alan (and Sue) Aho

Alan Aho - January 26, 2013 at 02:23 PM

“ 3 files added to the tribute wall

Nicole - January 26, 2013 at 11:12 AM

“ My grandma was a strong women. She didn't let anyone stand in her way. She spoke what she felt and I love her for that. She taught her children and grandchildren how to speak up for themselves. I lived with my grandma back in 2000 until Aug of 2002. I was pregnant with my daughter Sage when I moved in with my grandma. After having Sage grandma made sure I went back to school. It was my senior year and she wanted to make sure I graduated. I did graduate and with honors at that. Grandma then helped watch Sage so I could go to CNA school and make something of myself. Now I am a LVN thanks to her help. Grandma was like a best friend. We did everything together when I lived with her. After I got married and had to move out grandma still made sure I was ok always encouraging me to to bigger and better things. The funny thing is, she always knew when I was pregnant with all my kids before I did. She could look at me and say "Are you pregnant". Thanks to my grandma for all she did for me. I love you and know you are watching over us.

---

Nicole - January 26, 2013 at 11:11 AM

LD

“ My mother came to Jacksboro back in May of 2012. She grew up in Long Beach, Ca. My mother wore alot of hats, she was a playground coach for many years. Then she went to college to recieve her ece units to become a preschool teacher. The love of children, and Music were the most important. She was a devout Mormon. She would spend endless hours preparing her music, for Primary children to learn. She had a remarkable talent for teaching, always going the extra mile to instill the importance of christ and song in a young child's life. She later became active with the scouting program she was Den Mother in Cub scouts, and in the 70"s became a Scout Master of our Ward. She loved camping with the scouts, and our family. She could make a campfire faster than anyone, This made for some real entertaining camping trips, as she and my dad would race to see who would get theirs started first. Mom later in life, worked as a caregiver to those with Alheimers and fatal conditions. She took her work to heart always, and led many people to Heaven. She lost Dad in 89, and was devistated ever since. With failing health and early onset Alheimers now her self. She came to live with my family here in Texas. She didn't get out much, Dr. appts. mainly, she would remark how peaceful it was here, and how Daddy and her would have loved to live here. She developed complications of Diabetes, and quickly to ill, to leave her bed. I laid just for a brief moment on her bed, to see what her perspective view was, and all I saw was the celing and the face of my children, standing by my bedside. She never complained of the intense pain she was in, Nor the fact that all she could see was our faces. She would still joke around, and the kids friends would come to the house and say hello to her and end up laughing and telling them what a "cool" Grandma they had. She lived her life to the fullest, and taught us children how to be a compassionate and responsible Human Being. She was loved by everyone she came in contact with. Thank you to all the nurses and aids for treating my mom so special! I would like to tell my Husband Donny, Thank you for letting me take care of my mom in her final months. Thank you to my chidren, whom changed their whole way of life. Lindsey was a big help in her Grandmothers' life. As well as all her grandkids were.

She has no pain now, she is reunited with my Father, and my son. All the people who were lucky enough to pass on from this existence. I know she is one of God's most chosen and blessed spirits. She will live on through her children and our children, and we will live our lives to the fullest. Just like she did. I miss you Mom, and love you with all my heart! Thank you to Coker for the care the've shown to my family. I just wanted to say a few words about my mother. Thank you for letting me share! Lovingly,Lori Damron

---

Lori Ann Damron - January 26, 2013 at 09:24 AM

I remember when I was little grandmas house was the coolest place to be. She was always so nice to me. She would rub my neck til I fell asleep.then I would sneak up and watch robocop and eat cinnamon toast crunch, sorry grandma :). I remember my grandma and I would go eat dinner every birthday when I was young. Polly's pies. I remember her smile and her laugh my grandma was awesome.. I know that she is happier now she missed grandpa alot. She helped me out alot and. I'm so thankful. I remember our talks and how we would watch her stories together over sandwiches. I could go on forever about her. She will live on forever in my heart and in the hearts of all of us. I miss my grandma yet I know she is truly happy. Grandma when I get there ill make everyone breakfast. I love you and I love my family. She helped us all. She really did.

---

TJ Murphy - January 26, 2013 at 07:10 PM

So sorry about your mom! I remember working with her in the Long Beach first Ward. She could do anything! We traveled together to Utah and stayed at Vera Dicks house! Lots of memories. I just lost my son . . .so hard to have our loved ones leave us.

---

Nancy Ralls - July 01, 2013 at 02:03 AM