“ Shelby was my hero though she never understood why. She never let anything keep her down for long and kept reaching for the bright side. She never wanted pity and always put other's needs before hers. This girl changed me in ways she could never imagine and I am so blessed that God gave me the honor to be her mother. I have no regrets because we never missed a chance to say "I love you". Take the time to tell those you love, how much they mean to you because it's those moments that give you strength when their work on earth is done.
